PHONE STRIKE SPREADS TO WASHINGTON

War Labor Board Warning Ignored By Union Heads

Strike May Extend To Several States

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 22 (P)—Gov. John W. Bricker tonight declared "every patriotic citizen of Ohio is stunned at the defiance by the leaders of the Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers of their government in the midst of war."

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (P)—A national communications crisis developed tonight as Washington telephone operators walked out in sympathy with Ohio's "hello girls" and Detroit workers prepared to follow suit.

Despite a War Labor Board warning that interference with vital communications "at this critical period of the war can not be tolerated," operators in the capital voted to strike and throw picket lines around exchanges. The walkout was already under way, curtailing service.

Mrs. Mary E. Gannon, union president, said 2,700 operators in Washington and vicinity would be idle, except for an "emergency force to handle only priority calls of top emergency." She said that, in addition to sympathizing with Ohio operators, her union had grievances of its own.

The War Labor Board prepared to take the Ohio case to the White House, for possible army intervention or a presidential appeal to the workers.

Rejecting a WLB demand that they order 5,000 idle Ohio workers back to work, officials of the Ohio Telephone Workers Union appealed for "active support" from forty-one affiliated unions throughout the country.

The Ohio walkout threatened to extend tomorrow to neighboring Michigan. Mrs. Frances Smith, president of the Michigan Telephone Employees Federation, said 2,000 operators in war-vital Detroit would leave their jobs at 6 a. m. unless "the government takes over the Ohio strike situation" meanwhile.

The WLB addressed its warning to the Washington telephone union after hearing of the Ohio union's efforts to make the tieup nationwide.

In this nerve center of the United Nations' war effort, the telephone is one of the chief communications links with military establishments and production centers throughout the country.

Long distance calls were accepted here tonight only on an emergency basis. Local service on automatic telephones was not affected.

Operators leaving a union meeting here tonight said the strike would continue and picket lines would be thrown around telephone buildings tomorrow. Union leaders could not be reached immediately.

A spokesman for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company serving the Washington area said:

"A number of operators are already out, how many we don't know yet. But enough supposed to be on duty are not there to affect things some and cause a partial slow-down of service. Maybe they've left to go to the union meeting, tonight, I don't know."

The WLB's message to the Washington Telephone "Traffic Union" said that "any interference with telephone service in the nation's capital at this critical period of the war cannot be tolerated."

The trouble started in Dayton when workers walked out in protest against a company allowance of $18.25 weekly in living cost bonuses to temporary operators brought in to augment the regular Dayton staff.

"Wildcat or No Wildcat", Farmer Must Send Youngsters to School

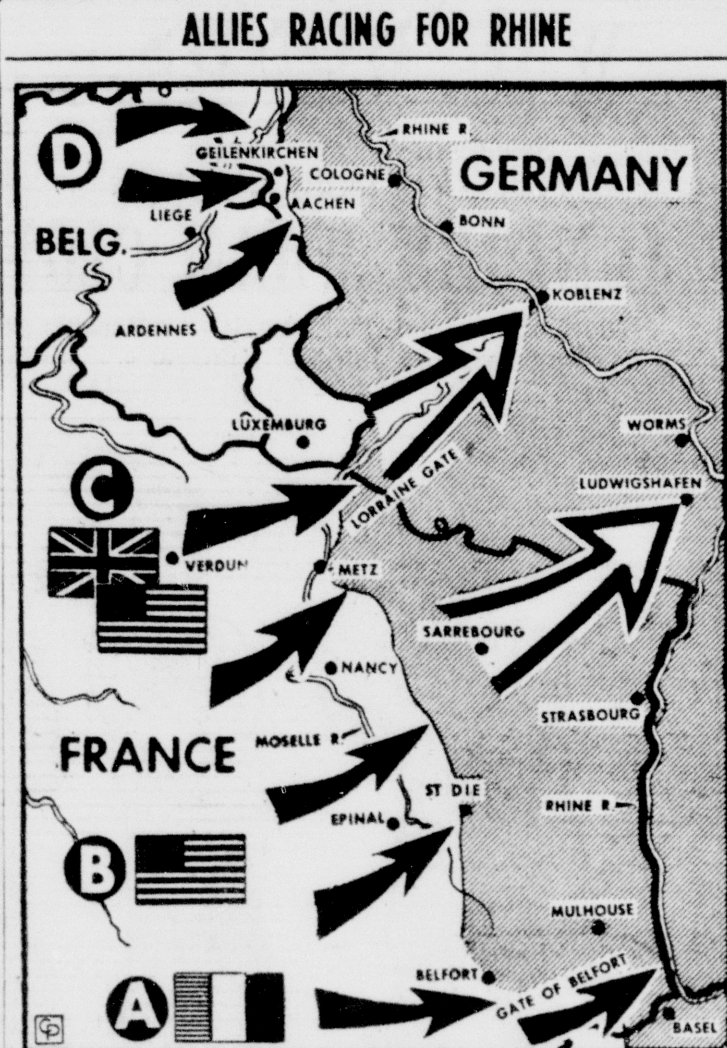

VANCEBURG, Ky., Nov. 22 (P)—big cat set up housekeeping in his district, he had "never been feared of man or beast."

Rowland said that he had listened to Johnson's petition, "not because I doubted the authenticity of the story, but because I wanted to see the color of the eyes of a Lewis county man who would hesitate to fight a wildcat."

The natives of the district substantiated Johnson's story of the animal, which the farmer said was "big as a police dog."

Children awoke and cried at night on hearing it, they added, and it had every dog in the neighborhood cowed.

The reward was announced yesterday by County Judge Taft Stone after a meeting with county officials. But no word came back from the hills today that any hunting expeditions had been organized.

ALONG HISTORIC ROUTES of invasion into Germany, Allied forces along the entire western front are carrying on the "big push" to the Rhine and beyond. Particularly spectacular (A) is the French First Army's Belfort gap breakthrough to the River Rhine and the road to Baviaria. To the north (B) drives head toward Strasbourg and large arrow indicates possible lower Saar Basin route. At Metz (C) organized German resistance is reported to have ceased to exist, while (upper large arrow) Gen. Patton's forces appear bent on following the Moselle river to Koblenz. Following the fall of Gienkirchen (D) the First and Ninth armies are beginning to bore deeper into Germany.

Switch in Jap Commanders Is Puzzle to China

CHUNGKING, Nov. 22 (P)—Removal of Field Marshal Shunroku Hata as commander-in-chief of the Japanese army in China caused surprise here today as the Chinese have regarded him as a wily and dangerous opponent.

The Japanese officer's removal, which was considered significant, possibly was caused by Tokyo's desire for even quicker results than he has obtained in the China campaign. Chinese here theorized.

Hata is replaced by Gen. Yasuji Okamura, formerly Japanese commander in North China, the Japanese war ministry announced today, while Hata is to become inspector-general of military education.

The Japanese drive to crush China appeared to be temporarily stalled, possibly because the Japanese are regrouping and reorganizing for fresh advances.

The high command reported again tonight that there was no change in positions along the Kwansi-Kweichow railroad, the main avenue for a Japanese invasion of Kweichow.

Fighting continued east of Hwaiyuan, a railroad town fifty miles west of Luichow. North and west of the town only minor actions occurred.

Again there was no mention of fighting in any other sector in Kwansi province, but on the Salween front, the Chinese continued to make progress and were only six miles from the Burma road town of Chetang, twenty-eight road miles from the Sino Burma border and the last important objective before the town of Wanting on the border itself.

The trouble started in Dayton when workers walked out in protest against a company allowance of $18.25 weekly in living cost bonuses to temporary operators brought in to augment the regular Dayton staff.

Leader Stresses National Scope Of 'Phone Strike

BALTIMORE, Nov. 22 (P)—The strike of telephone workers in Ohio was termed tonight by President J. A. Biernie of the National Federation of Telephone Workers as "really a grievance of all telephone workers in the Bell system," and "national in scope."

Biernie, in a telephoned statement from Los Angeles issued through the union's headquarters in Baltimore, said that "the National Federation of Telephone Workers cannot not order people to strike neither can it order them not to do so."

The federation, he said, "fully sympathizes with the members in Ohio and sincerely trusts that the shortsightedness of the company or a board will be overcome before real difficulties are experienced."

"The actions of the workers in the entire industry are problematical. Our support is expected but they must make their own decisions."

Biernie's statement said that underlying factors of the Ohio strike was the attitude of the Bell company "in executing what they consider 'company policies' of long standing to the exclusion and utter disregard for collective bargaining."

"The practices of the company in this and other cases destroys the free freedoms and objectives for which our members and all workers are fighting for on the field of battle."

Explains Position

The federation president explained to the Ohio federation, as all other union affiliates, has autonomy. The statement added:

"The Ohio federation has appealed to all telephone workers to consider the dispute in its true light. The government agencies have seen fit to follow self-imposed regulations, which deny objective consideration of such serious matters. A few men, representing a board, would stifle justice."

"The National Federation of Telephone Workers has been in constant touch with the situation and its policy of 'hurt one of us and you hurt all of us' is most certainly applicable in this case."

Biernie telephoned the statement to Miss Fern Longenecker, business manager of the federation, at the Baltimore headquarters.

Miss Longenecker said the federation has about 150,000 members.

CIO Celebrates Election of FDR And Cheers PAC

Plans To Continue Political Activity

By HAROLD WARD

CHICAGO, Nov. 22 (P)—An exuberant CIO convention voted today, after a noisy celebration of Nov. 7 election success, to continue its Political Action committee indefinitely and rededicate it to winning additional congressional seats in 1946.

Wild ovation reminiscent of the political conventions last summer greeted Sidney Hillman, chairman of the CIO's Political Action committee, and Philip Murray, CIO president, when they tried to talk.

CIO Leaders Speak

Virtually a half-day was devoted to PAC—its part in the recent campaign and its avowed role in the future—in speeches by Hillman, Murray, and a dozen leaders of the unions in the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Murray urged "now that it's over and we start out anew, let's forget the bitterness and hatreds thrust upon the people by the enemies of our movement and their castigation of the leaders of CIO and PAC."

"The CIO leader cautioned against interpreting the convention's action in continuing PAC as 'a narrow movement.'"

"We are associating ourselves with all right-thinking and progressive peoples in building for a better country and a better world away our shores."

"Our money and institutions shall be used to promote the welfare of the United States and all its people," said Murray. "It's truly a movement of the common man toward the attainment of his objectives."

Reviews Role in War

When the shouting had died down and a formal vote was taken on continuing the committee, Murray turned to CIO's role in the war reading a cable he sent to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commanding Allied forces in the European theater, in which he assured the military chief:

"Our people will stay on the job until we have given you everything you need for final victory over the Nazis."

Murray said he was responding to Eisenhower's message to American war workers.

"Your call for more and still more shells, artillery, trucks and other arms and supplies finds an acceptance in CIO's unequivocal pledge of its no-strike pledge and in renewed dedication to still greater effort and devotion in the job of getting the supplies to you and your heroic men," the cable said.

Hillman Hails Victory

Hillman said that Mr. Roosevelt, supported by the CIO-PAC, had defeated, "we would have lost in our generation, at least—of hope of winning a decent and enduring peace."

He said forces "of black reaction" would have "turned our country from a course of collaboration and friendship among nations to a struggle for world domination, leading inevitably to international conflict and a Third world war."

"Had these forces come to power, we would have lost our chance of winning job and security for all our people in the postwar world," Hillman said.

Against Third Party

He reiterated that PAC was not interested in forming a Third party, because it would only serve to cut us off from large and important progressive groups with which we have been so successfully allied."

Non-partisan political action "forward-looking members of both parties" and in the mainstream of American political life, was the course he charted.

The convention will complete action on other resolutions tomorrow going through the Thanksgiving holiday but setting aside tomorrow night for a turkey banquet. At the session on Friday, last day of the convention, officers will be elected and Secretary of Interior Ickes is scheduled to talk.

War-time Thanksgiving:

GI Joe and Jane Get Most Turkey, But That's Okay with Homelinks

[By The Associated Press]

The nation, with the exception of seven states, solemnly observed its third wartime Thanksgiving today (Thursday) with thoughts of absent family members in the armed forces who in turn held their own celebrations at the fighting fronts and dreamed of home.

Cheered by encouraging reports from the battlefields, the homelinks prepared for traditional dinners, but in many cases the usual turkey was lacking.

The gobbler had gone to war. Turkeys galore, with cranberry sauce and sweet potatoes, were a link with loved ones for every GI Joe and Jane in the European theater of operations.

Thanksgiving day dinners were ready for every mess in the United Kingdom and on the continent, with generous helpings passed forward to men in the lines.

Religious services were scheduled for every post. In London Ambassador John G. Winant read the Thanksgiving proclamation in Westminster Abbey.

For the folks back home, the weather bureau forecast fair weather for a major portion of the nation.

In Plymouth, Mass., scene of the Pilgrims' first Thanksgiving, a festive spirit prevailed although the names of 1620 men and women of the historic community are listed on the honor roll, a number coinciding strangely with the year of the Pilgrims' arrival.

Military police guarding German prisoners at Dunkirk, N. Y., were set for a Thanksgiving dinner prepared by a prisoner-chef but declined a German version of pumpkin pie.

"Whoever heard of a European baking a pumpkin pie?" they asked.

See Plane Crash

Minnesota forest rangers reported seeing a plane crash into a wooded area at 2:45 p. m. (central war time) nearly five hours after the crew set the automatic pilot and bailed out—but positive identification of the plane as that which flew alone about 400 miles could not be made until tomorrow at the earliest, the pros said.

The plane was from the Sioux City base. Crewmen reported they bailed out without injury, when they were unable to "feather" the propeller of a dead engine. The ship began to vibrate and there was a threat of fire, the base announced. The place where the men left the ship is seventy-five miles northwest of Sioux City.

Word that a crewless plane was flying through the midwest caused state police in several states to send out alarms over their radio networks.

Fire Stations Alerted

In Chicago, first believed to be the city toward which the Portress was flying, all fire stations were alerted for possible emergency calls and civil and military authorities were notified to be on the lookout.

It was the third time in eighteen months that a crewless bomber had flown through the sky over Iowa. In the two previous cases the planes crashed several hours after the crews had left them. No fatalities resulted.

AFL Threatens Labor Boycott In Two States

GI Joe and Jane Get Most Turkey, But That's Okay with Homelinks

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 22 (P)—The general counsel of the American Federation of Labor today shook a boycott bludgeon at Florida and Arkansas which adopted anti-closed shop laws in the November 7 election.

Joseph Padway, speaking at the AFL national convention, said:

"If Arkansas and Florida attempt to enforce open-shop laws our answer will be that the printers will not print the bricklayers will not lay bricks, and members of the other trades will lay down their tools rather than work with scabs."

Padway announced that AFL lawyers have filed suits with the United States Supreme Court questioning the constitutionality of what he repeatedly referred to as anti-union laws adopted by a number of states, adding that the high court previously had upheld the "union members right not to work with non-union men."

Assuring convention delegates that closed shop contracts in Arkansas and Florida war plants "are entirely safe" because "the moment there is a dispute the War Labor Board will take jurisdiction and tell the states to keep hands off," Padway added that the situation might become "serious" in peacetime if states attempted to enforce laws prohibiting closed shops.

Prisoners of War Will Get Presents

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 22 (P)—The Red Cross announced today that three ships would start shuttle traffic between Goteborg and Ubeck next week carrying 500,000 Christmas packages for Allied prisoners of war in Germany.

The first contingent of gifts was expected to arrive from the United States within three or four days aboard the Transvancore. Later the Mangalore, bound from Philadelphia, was expected with more packages.

No Paper Friday

The Cumberland News will not be published tomorrow—Friday, due to the Thanksgiving day holiday. The next issue of the paper will be published Saturday morning Nov. 25.

600 Italy-Based Yank Bombers Blast Nazi Rail Line at Munich

LONDON, Nov. 22 (P)—More than 600 bombers from the United States Fifteenth air force in Italy struck at rail lines in the Munich and Salzburg areas of Southern Germany today, keeping the Allied air attack going while thick weather grounded British-based bombers.

Rail yards at Villach in Southern Austria and the Ferrara rail bridge in Northern Italy also were attacked by the American bombers and their escort of 300 Lightnings and Mustangs.

These blows, designed to disrupt traffic flowing to the battle zone in Italy, were made through heavy clouds and results were not announced. Allied headquarters in Rome said considerable flack and some fighter opposition was encountered.

Saverne Taken By Allies in Alsace Drive

Nazis Attempting To Protect Ruhr

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

PARIS, Nov. 22 (P)—Saverne, nineteen miles northwest of Strasbourg, was captured tonight by the Allies' sweep through Alsace and Lorraine which earlier today crushed Nazi resistance in the fortress cities of Metz and Mulhouse.

On the bitterly-contested Northern front, where the German bastion of Eschweiler was overrun today by the United States First Army, the desperate Germans were firing volleys of V-1 and V-2 rocket bombs into areas in the rear of the advancing American Ninth army.

Seek To Protect Ruhr

A frontline dispatch said that the appearance of the rocket bombs was taken as an indication that the Germans were hurrying everything they have in their effort to protect the industrial Ruhr from the American First and Ninth armies.

Heavy fighting raged along the entire front of the Ninth today, particularly on the approaches to Juch, but local gains were made by Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's forces.

It was the French Second armored division which pushed through the Saverne gap in two streams and then drove into the town itself from the north and south. This French armored force is attached to the United States Seventh Army.

As the last German pocket in Metz surrendered, other doughboys of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third army who swept past the doomed fortress city days ago smashed to the German Saar frontier at two new points west of Saarbrücken in lightning ten-mile thrusts.

More than 100 miles to the south, French armored forces plunging down the Rhine valley behind the Nazis' crumbling Vosges mountain positions seized Mulhouse, an important city of nearly 100,000 population.

French Reach Colmar

(Gen. Charles De Gaulle, in a broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications Commission, reported French troops had sped twenty-two miles beyond Mulhouse to the gates of Colmar, a big road junction 40 miles south of Strasbourg.)

As the French and Americans swept down the Rhine valley and poured like acid through the passes of the Vosges, they hourly increased the threat of entrapment to an estimated 70,000 German troops remaining on the west bank of the Rhine above Strasbourg. A front dispatch said only three bridges still were standing on the Rhine in the forty-mile stretch.

So swift was the French armored envelopment of Mulhouse that members of the German Nineteenth army general staff were captured, along with more than 1,000 other prisoners.

One of the biggest stumbling blocks in the path of the Allied power drive toward Cologne and the great industrial Rhineland was removed with the crushing of last-ditch Nazi resistance in Eschweiler, an important communications center through which house-to-house fighting had raged for several days.

General Hodges' troops opened a final irresistible smash right through the center of the Siegfried line down at 3 A. M. today, and by tonight the last enemy opposition had flickered out. Eschweiler was almost a total ruin, another monument to what will happen to Germany's towns and cities when they are converted into forts.

Eschweiler's collapse threatened Weisweiler, two miles to the east, and unhinged the strong enemy line at that point, twenty-eight miles from Cologne. The Germans still were fighting bitterly, however, on a "shoulder" southeast of Eschweiler, trying to keep their entire line from crumbling before the First army's terrible blows.

Although held at their bases today, American and RAF bombers in Britain had the satisfaction of knowing their tremendous assaults against Nazi oil targets Tuesday were successful.

A Eighth air force said photographic reconnaissance showed "severe damage" to the Ebane and Rhenania-Ossag refineries at Harburg, near Hamburg.

It also was announced that five bombers and four fighters reported missing in Tuesday's campaign had landed safely in friendly territory, leaving thirty-five United States bombers and thirteen fighters unaccounted for. Seventy-four enemy planes were shot down and six destroyed on the ground.

Raymond Fellers Burns to Death In Truck Fire

By KATHERINE FISHER

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., Nov. 22—Funeral services were held Tuesday at St. Luke's Presbyterian church at The Trough for Raymond L. Fellers, 48, who was burned to death shortly after midnight when his truck wrecked on Zettick hill on the Trough road in Hardy county near the residence of M. P. Poling.

Cpl. Gail Bush, of the West Virginia state police, said the truck apparently stalled in high gear when partly up the hill, and drifted back some forty paces, finally sliding into the ditch on the right side and turning over. Tire marks in the road indicated Fellers had tried to stop the heavily-loaded vehicle, but succeeded only in sliding the front wheels.

Feller was returning to his home in The Trough with about three tons of oats, having brought a load of livestock to market. He stopped at a local garage between 11 and 12 o'clock Saturday night and had the lights repaired on his truck, after which he proceeded on his way home. Mrs. Charles Smith reported she was up between 1 and 1:30 and saw a glow in the vicinity where the truck was found Sunday morning about 8:30 by David Harmison, who called the authorities. It is presumed this fire was of the burning truck. Feller was burned beyond recognition and identification was made by members of his family, who recognized his belt buckle, spectacles and case and a pocket knife. This was all that was left except five or six coins.

At a coroner's inquest held Monday afternoon in Squire J. H. W. Simon's court, Dr. O. V. Brooks testified that in his opinion, death resulted from shock and suffocation brought on by the smoke and heat. He said both legs and both forearms were burned off. The flames melted the glass in the windows, but destroyed only ten bushels of oats.

Garage men, pointing to the fact that the truck was in high gear when found, said it was possible that when the vehicle started backwards down the hill and thus turning the engine over in reverse, it could have thrown gasoline out on the hot manifold pipe, thus starting the fire. It was possible, they said, that when the truck turned over, Fellers was rendered unconscious by the crash, and died as the flames roared through the cab.

Witnesses at the inquest were questioned by Prosecuting Attorney Ralph J. Bean, and the jury was composed of Oscar Fitzwater, John McNeill, Arno Fiddle, Carl Welton, Harry Vetter and Seymour Williams. The jury found no evidence of foul play.

Fellers is survived by his widow, the former Miss Delphia Bean, and eight children: Mrs. Elmer Bucklew, William, Richard, Florence, Betty, Hilda, Homer and Carol, all at home.

they were emerged from under-neath his bed.

Three were shot by Capt. George Polk of Ohio when he found them looking out the window of his billet in the attitude of snipers.

War Worker Jailed On Bigamy Charge

BALTIMORE, Nov. 22 (AP)—Roy Charles, 26-year-old war worker from Logan county, W. Va., was sentenced to a year in the house of correction after he pleaded guilty to bigamy before Judge John T. Tucker in criminal court.

Charles admitted marrying Clara White of Baltimore last Sept. 15

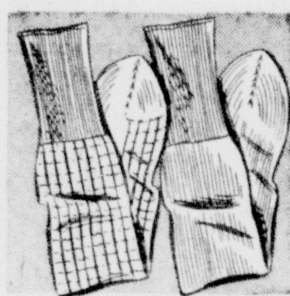

although he had a wife and two children in West Virginia. He married Mrs. Gladys Charles in 1938. Charles came to Baltimore last August.

Merit System Change Meets Opposition

BALTIMORE, Nov. 22 (P)—A proposal to move certain unclassified state employees into the merit system met strong opposition from a trio of state officials at a hearing before a Legislative Council subcommittee.

State Comptroller J. Millard Taves led the attack on the grounds that it would be unfair to returning servicemen and possibly handicap them in attempting to return to old positions.

"I feel it is the responsibility of each department head to protect his returning servicemen. We had better leave things as they are and not create a confusing situation which would result in a mass of problems being dumped into the state employment commissioner's lap when the veterans come home and want their jobs back," he said.

Wife Seeks Divorce

Charging her husband with treating her cruelly, Mrs. E. Marie Schech filed suit in circuit court Tuesday for a partial divorce from Robert M. Schech. The couple were married May 29, 1939, and lived together until July 15 of this year, according to the bill of complaint. Edwin M. Horchler represents the complainant.

Japanese-Americans To Be Absorbed by Nation, FDR Says

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (P)—While seeing no prospect of relaxing west-coast restrictions, President Roosevelt said today that he thought Japanese-American citizens could be absorbed readily through all the rest of the country.

Many Japanese already have scattered through the nation, he told a news conference. Furthermore, he said, many lawyers believe citizens of Japanese extraction cannot be kept locked in concentration camps. There are about 100,000 of them, Mr. Roosevelt said, and twenty or twenty-five per cent already have placed themselves in other parts of the country.

Turkeys Scarce In Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Nov. 22 (P)—A survey of Baltimore wholesale and retail establishments showed today that there are almost no more turkeys on the city markets for civilian consumption.

Leading Free State turkey growers said regular customers had ordered all the birds that would be available for Thanksgiving and Christmas. Dealers reported they would accept no orders for the few additional birds expected.

U. S. Farm Income Expected To Drop

BALTIMORE, Nov. 22 (P)—Reporting the current United States net farm income now totals 12.6 billion dollars, Dr. S. H. DeVault, agricultural economist, said today that the income was expected to drop to 11.1 billions for the six months after the close of the European war. Dr. DeVault, on the staff of the University of Maryland, told a group of agricultural extension workers meeting at a Baltimore hotel, that an additional 2.1 billion decline was expected after both the European and the Asiatic wars end.

After the war, helicopters, jeeps and other tools of war will be used to fight forest fire.

All-Out Effort Needed--McNutt

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 22 (AP)—Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission, warned labor, industry and government against fumbling the ball on the ten-year line with the war's end in prospect.

McNutt, addressing the American Federation of Labor, told of unwillingness of workers to labor in certain essential industrial, difficulties over unemployment security provisions in some states and hitches due to arguments over race or color.

The McNutt address and a message from President Roosevelt, read by AFL President William Green and asking for unceasing production "to shorten the war" highlighted today's convention session which took up consideration of reports.

McNutt urged an all-out war effort to defeat Germany and Japan and "meet the challenges of reconstruction and peace or face World War III, a rocket war of total death."

"Management in some foundries is still producing non-essential products or is still clinging to peacetime employment restrictions of race and color," McNutt said. "Unions, too, have a responsibility to see that democracy works within the ranks of labor."

Uncle Sam is still paying one pension as a result of the War of 1812.

Seth Bowen Weds Mrs. Ruth Andrews In Local Church

Ceremony Is Performed in Central Methodist Church by the Pastor

Mrs. Ruth Lee Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Powell, 609 Frederick street, became the bride of Seth Thomas Bowen, 211 Greene street, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Bowen, Delhi, La., last evening.

The ceremony was solemnized at 8 o'clock in Central Methodist church, with the Rev. Lee H. Richcreek, pastor, officiating. Mrs. Wallace Petrea was her sister's matron of honor and only attendant. R. F. Williams served as Mr. Bowen's best man and Wallace Petrea and Roland F. Bean, Front Royal, Va., brothers-in-law of the bride, were the ushers.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Lottie Twigg, who also played the traditional wedding marches and Miss Josephine Williams sang, "O Promise Me," preceding the ceremony. The rainbow color scheme of the wedding was carried out in the bouquets of orchid and yellow chrysanthemums decorating the altar, which was banked with palms.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dinner gown of flower blue, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, trimmed with matching lace, which was repeated in the edging of the short sleeves. Her elbow length gloves were of the same flower blue, and an old fashioned locket, a gift of the bridegroom, was her only ornament. Her finger tip length veil of the same blue was held by a coronet of natural rosebuds. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of pink rosebuds and blue baby's breath with a fuchsia colored orchid in the center. The bouquet was surrounded with flower blue mairine.

Mrs. Petrea was attired in a street length dinner gown of petal pink, made similar to the bride's with matching gloves and veil. Her coronet was of yellow pompons matching those in her old fashioned bouquet, which also included fuchsia and yellow chrysanthemums, blue baby's breath and was backed with pink mairine.

The bride is a graduate of Ursuline Academy and for the past five years has been active in Girl Scout work. She is leader of Senior Troop 14. She is also prominent in church work being a member of both the junior and senior choirs and serves as secretary of the Christian social relations.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Delhi high school and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston, La., and is employed as a chemist at the Celanese Corporation of America.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple received their friends in the reception room of the church, after which an informal wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, for out of town guests and relatives.

A three-tiered wedding cake centered the refreshment table, which was decorated with crystal vases of yellow chrysanthemums and tall yellow tapers in crystal holders. Mrs. Roland F. Bean presided at the punch bowl and was assisted in serving by Miss Betty H. Powell, Paw Paw, W. Va., aunt of the bride.

For traveling Mrs. Bowen chose a blue wool suit, with fuchsia accessories and matching tuxedo top coat. Her corsage was an orchid. After a two weeks trip to Louisiana and other southern cities, Mr. and Mrs. Bowen will reside at 445 North Centre street.

Ed Carey Talks (Thanksgiving) Turkey

Bert Childers hails Ed Carey on his back porch. "What you doin', Ed?" he asks.

"Pluckin' our Thanksgiving turkey," Ed replies.

"Looks like a chicken to me," says Bert. "Looks like one to me, too," Ed allows. "But with so many turkeys goin' to our fightin' men, some chickens got to do a turkey-size job."

Guess that's the way Thanksgiving is going to be in a lot of homes this year. We'll be sitting down to rationed foods and substitutes—and being mighty glad about it!... knowing that the best is going to our men overseas.

And from where I sit, the most important thing of all isn't rationed. That's the Spirit of Thanksgiving! Today—as the lights are going on again all over the world—there's more of it than ever! And more cause for it—as the powers of darkness yield to freedom, tolerance, and human kindness!

Germans Facing Ring of Steel West of Rhine

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Franco-American troops in Alsace are on the verge of repeating in the snow-crueted Vosges mountains the Allied feat in Normandy that put to flight the whole Nazi war machine in France. They are fashioning a trap for a whole German army west of the upper Rhine, dooming it to the same fate meted out to another east of the Seine months ago.

Field reports estimate 70,000 Nazi front line troops caught in that iron ring. They represent substantially a seventh of the total force, exclusive of extemporized "people's army" elements, credited to the foe on the 500 mile long western front.

Loss Would Be Serious

Their loss at this critical stage of the expanding Allied winter offensive could prove an even more decisive blow to Germany than the Anglo-American wrecking of the German Seventh army in the Normandy pocket last August.

It is improbable that the imperiled Nineteenth army, caught in the closing Franco-American Vosges vise, could be replaced or its loss made up by a line shortening retreat. Nazi resort to the "people's army" clearly proclaimed that the bottom of the military man-power barrel had been reached in Germany.

The fast-moving French First army that ripped its way to the Rhine through the Belfort Gap has taken the Mulhouse bastion in its stride and stormed on down the left bank of the river in order to cut off the Nazis' escape to their homeland.

Disaster in South

Nazi military commentators hinted at possibilities of a serious disaster in the South at the time the French broke through the Belfort Gap to reach the Rhine. They admitted a tactical reverse but classed it as of limited significance unless General Eisenhower exploited it promptly. That is just what has happened.

It seems clear that again as west of the Seine the Nazi command has delayed too long the retreat beyond the upper Rhine. Battle attrition in that sector is eating into vital essential reserves needed to bolster the sagging defense of the Aachen breach in the Siegfried line where powerful British and American forces now stand virtually along the muddy Roer, last natural barrier of consequence west of the Rhine.

The largest ant in the world hunts flies in the Amazon jungle.

After the ceremony Pvt. and Mrs. Moran spent a brief honeymoon in Philadelphia and visited Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Crites here. Pvt. Moran has reported back to duty and is now stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C. while Mrs. Moran is at home here for the present.

Milkweed Pod Collection

Six hundred and sixty bags of milkweed pods from Hardy county were shipped at Romney for delivery to a factory at Petaskey, Michigan on November 10. The shipment was picked up at Moorefield by truck and T. D. Gray, rural organization specialist from West Virginia university, was in charge of loading. Gray reported the loading of three cars from this part of the state.

The pods, collected by school children, 4-H Clubs and individuals and sent to collection centers where they were picked up by the state road commission and school board employees and transported to Moorefield.

The three schools, in different classifications, collecting the greatest number of bags are as follows: GRADED SCHOOLS: Mathias, seventy-two; Moorefield, sixty-seven; Wardensville, twenty-six.

TWO ROOM SCHOOLS: Burch, thirty-nine; Halterman thirty-four; Lost City, twenty-four.

ONE ROOM SCHOOLS: Darling, nineteen; Thrasher Spring, fourteen; Bass, thirteen.

HIGH SCHOOLS: Wardensville twenty; Mathias sixteen; Moorefield, two.

The greatest number gathered by one organization was brought in by the Lost River Live Wire 4-H Club which collected seventy-six bags. Mrs. Wilson Teets is leader.

The Moorefield Volunteer Fire Company contributed thirty-seven bags and J. D. Heiskell collected and delivered sixteen bags. With few exceptions at least four bags were gathered by each school. The project in Hardy county was organized by a committee from various county offices, community organizations and school principals and with R. S. Dispanet county superintendent, as chairman.

Driscoll's Report Describes Exploit of Lt. Colborn

Tells about Starting To "Capture" Metz His Own Way

By RUDOLPH NICKEL
FROSTBURG, Nov. 22—A report from the war front in France, which appeared on page publicity in last Sunday's New York Herald-Tribune, paid high tribute to Lt. Harry B. Colborn, grandson of Mrs. Diana Colborn, West Main street, this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Colborn, Fairmont, W. Va.

The story, written by Joseph P. Hall under the caption "Impatient Second Lieutenant Starts to Capture Metz His Own Way," states that Metz, which had defied emperors, kings and dictators for centuries, was captured in spirit if not in fact by a second lieutenant from Locust avenue, Fairmont, W. Va., and gave his name as Harry B. Colborn, with the comment that for a second loote he rates high with a company of the Tenth regiment of the Fifth infantry.

"Along about dusk last evening," (November 17) the dispatch relates, "Lt. Colborn got impatient with the Metz situation and took E company out of the shot-up little town of Magny toward Fort Queuleu, which is so close to the southeast city limits of Metz that his superior officers say it is actually in the city."

"Anyway, Harry Colborn and Company E disappeared into the dusk toward the fort, and that was the last heard from Harry and his gang. Throughout the night, waiting for this morning's jump off to take Metz in force, Harry's friends sat around pensively and said what a good guy he was, or had been, and how his folks in Fairmont would miss him."

"Down dawn the jump-off came and thousands of men poured out toward Metz and Fort Queuleu to engage the Americans killed or wounded during the ten weeks siege of Metz. And when, after a good deal of rough, tough skirmishing, they got into the southern half of Fort Queuleu, whom should they find there but a second lieutenant named Colborn running the show and busily engaged in exterminating the Germans who still clung to the northern half of the fort."

"Leaving Harry Colborn and others of his ilk to the business of dominating unfriendly forts, a business which they obviously understood as well as the rest of the regiment poured into Metz and fought away inch by inch, foot by foot and doorstep by doorstep, toward the center of the city."

Lt. Colborn, who graduated from the University of West Virginia, Morgantown, before entering the military service was a frequent visitor to the home of his grandmother here and is known by many Frostburgers.

Fire Completely Destroys Store In Beryl, W. Va.

Harvey Beaver, Manager, Puts Property Loss at $11,000

GEORGE W. DADDYSMAN
WESTERNPORT, Nov. 22 — The estimated loss of the general store of the Buxton and Landstreet store, Beryl, W. Va., which was burned to the ground early this morning was placed at $11,000 by the manager of the store, Harvey Beaver.

The fire, of an unknown origin, started in a warehouse in the rear of the two story frame building.

Beaver said he closed the store at 5 p. m. yesterday and the only fire left in the building was a small fire in a heating stove. He stated the value of the stock was about $9,000 and the building at $2,000. He said he thought it is covered by insurance.

About three years ago their store, a short distance from the present one, burned and they converted a dwelling house into a store.

Tri-Towns fire company No. 1, Piedmont, Potomac, fire company No. 2, Westernport, Beryl, Bloomington and Luke fire companies responded to the fire alarm. They were handicapped by lack of water. Nearby homes were saved from flying sparks. Beaver suffered a laceration on his nose when a board hit him.

Although Dewey carried the counties by a majority of 27,819, he ran 50,678 votes behind Mr. Roosevelt in Baltimore city.

A tabulation of the soldier votes showed 34,621—or about 30 per cent—of the eligible service personnel and other absentees cast ballots.

President Roosevelt received 21,317 of these to Dewey's 13,231.

There were 244,661 fewer ballots cast on the presidency than were cast four years ago.

The complete count showed that Senator Tydings (D-Md) polled 28,738 more votes than President Roosevelt for a state-wide total of 344,896, to 213,847 for his Republican opponent, Blanchard Randall, Jr.

Carving Europe Held Unlikely

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The chances that Europe will be carved up into western and eastern blocs dominated respectively by Britain and Russia are growing dimmer.

French policy appears to be the reason for this trend but there are some indications that the British are less enthusiastic about the idea than they once were. The Russians have said all along that they did not like it.

Trend Closely Watched

The trend is being watched with deep interest here because American policy with respect to Europe calls for no blocs, in the sense of tightly knit and potentially antagonistic groups. It calls rather for the submergence of old balance of power political systems in the interest of continent-wide and world wide co-operation.

One of the clearest statements of foreign policy on the subject of European political organization came today from Foreign Minister Georges Bidault at Paris. Evidently referring to published reports that Prime Minister Churchill and General De Gaulle had more or less agreed on a Western European bloc during their recent conference at Paris, Bidault said France actually is opposed to an exclusive western bloc.

France's Position

France favors, he said, an Alliance in the west and an Alliance in the east and will never allow itself to be limited to Western Europe alone. His speech was interpreted here as having these implications:

1. The De Gaulle government is seeking to make France the fulcrum of European politics, probably assuming that Russia will ride one end of the see-saw and Britain the other.

2. The French want the British to know that they do not favor an exclusive western bloc.

3. At the same time they want the Russians to understand that they do not accept any political domination of Soviet interest in Eastern Europe although the French make no claim of co-operation with Russia there.

Quadruplets Now Easily Recognized By Their Mother

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22 (AP)—The three-week-old Philadelphia quadruplets are becoming less of a mystery to their mother.

Mrs. Kathleen Cirimello, in her first interview at the lying-in unit of Pennsylvania hospital since the four-month-old was born Nov. 1, said that she is just now beginning to distinguish one child from another. Eleven is the first of the three girls and a boy she could tell by name — she has a mole on her head.

The 30-year-old mother, plans to leave the hospital today. The quads, still in incubators, will stay there until they weigh approximately six pounds each.

Maureen now tips the scales at three pounds, nine ounces; Kathleen, three pounds; Elleen, three pounds, six and one-quarter ounces and Michael three pounds, eight and one-half ounces.

Papa Cirimello was present. He blushed when his wife said the children were cute and looked like him. In Arctic regions a man who wants a divorce leaves home in anger and does not return for several days. The wife takes the hint and departs.

Among Eskimos of Repulse Bay it is not unusual for friends to exchange wives occasionally for a week or two.

The mines and quarries of ancient Transylvania supplied Rome with gold and marble.

GI's on Leave
Test Out Seats
In Lower House

By TOM REEDY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (P)—Two GI's on leave have tested out the House seats they will occupy in January, shook hands with Speaker Sam Rayburn and opined:

"This beats reveille at dawn."

The words were those of Pvt. William J. Green, 34, father of four, elected to the House from Philadelphia. The sentiments were echoed by Sgt. Melvin Price, 39-year-old bachelor, elected from East St. Louis, Ill.

"That reveille . . . that was the toughest," said Price.

Neither of them is quite through with the bugle despite their election. Green's furlough expires this weekend and he has to be back at Camp Lee, Va. Price is on a three-day pass from the same Cantonment.

As soon as the vote is certified—there's no doubt of their election but the absentee ballots hold it up—each will doff his uniform. They will enter Congress when the 79th session convenes in January.

Neither soldier is new to politics. Price was secretary to an Illinois representative and had ten years experience on Capitol Hill. Green was in politics in Philadelphia and was an employee in the governor's personnel office in Harrisburg, Pa., during the Earle administration from 1935 to 1939.

Bond Advertising
Valued at 250 Millions

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22 (P)—The advertising and publicity used to put over the war bond drives would have cost the government more than $250,000,000 if it had not been given freely by Robert W. Coyne, national field director of the War Finance Committee said in an address before the Poor Richard Club.

Highway Fatalities
Show Decrease for
Month of October

BALTIMORE, Nov. 22 (P)—The Maryland Traffic Safety Commission has reported forty-six fatalities during October, compared with fifty traffic deaths in October of last year.

At the same time, the commission said that Maryland's total of 307 deaths for the first ten months of this year showed an increase of four over the corresponding period in 1943.

Of the total of 1,074 accidents in October, 604 resulted in injuries and forty-six fatalities.

Seven hundred and sixteen accidents, thirteen deaths and 352 injuries occurred in Baltimore.

Ten Maryland counties—Calvert, Carroll, Garrett, Kent, Montgomery, Queen Anne's, St. Mary's, Somerset, Talbot and Worcester—went without a fatality last month.

Six deaths occurred in Prince George's, five in Harford, three each in Caroline and Frederick, two each in Allegany and Washington and one each in Anne Arundel, Cecil, Charles, Dorchester, Howard and Wicomico.

Fifty per cent of the fatalities were due to pedestrian accidents.

Machine guns used by Americans in World War I were developed by John M. Browning, of Utah.

Green Bay Packers Scanning Eastern Division for Playoff Opponent

By JIMMY JORDAN

CHICAGO, Nov. 22 (AP) — Cold statistics, whether or not they are good yardstick by which to measure ability, gave the Western division of the National Football League something to worry about today as the Green Bay Packers scanned the Eastern horizon in an effort to determine which team they'll meet in the loop's playoff next month. The statistics showed that Philadelphia's high-flying Eagles not only are leading the entire league in offense, but they have been the best club in the loop insofar as defense is concerned. The Eagles averaged 43 yards per rushing play all season, and on defense they held their foes to 1.8 yards per rush.

Western Clubs Dominate Play

The circuit's Western division has dominated post-season play since the first inter-divisional championship game in 1933. Green Bay swept up the Western division crown last Sunday, when Chicago's Bears dropped a 41-21 decision to Detroit. The Packers also lost 24-0 to Detroit, but the Bears' loss assured Green Bay a division title.

Not only Philadelphia, but also once-beaten New York, held a statistical edge over the Packers. The Giants held a 27-yard defensive score against the rest of the league, and a 41 yards offensive average.

Seven times in the eleven inter-divisional games the Western team has been victorious. Highlight of the series was the Chicago Bears' 73-0 victory over Washington in 1940.

But the cold statistics this year show that the Eastern team may be able to come a bit closer to evening the count.

The Packers, however, still were far ahead in both total yardage gained by passing and rushing when compared with Philadelphia, New York and Washington, the three Eastern teams still with a chance of winning the Eastern sectional title.

Eastern Title Undecided

Their total of 2,748 yards gained in nine games included 1,430 from scrimmage, 1,282 from passes and thirty-six from lateral passes. Philadelphia's comparable totals were 1,221, 660 and nineteen. New York had 1,157, 577 and no lateral yardage.

The Eastern division champion may not be decided until the season's final game, Dec. 10, and by that time the official league statistics may be changed considerably. Philadelphia, only unbeaten team, still has to meet the Chicago Bears, Brooklyn and Cleveland. New York has on its schedule Brooklyn and Washington twice, while Washington, in addition to the home and home series with New York, also has to play Boston.

Leslie Grey Wins Discovery Purse

BALTIMORE, Nov. 22 (AP) — Longchamps Farms' Leslie Grey was an easy winner of the Discovery purse at Pimlico today, romping home four lengths in front of her nearest rival in a field of twelve two-year-old fillies.

Mrs. S. M. Pistorio's My Angela was second, a head in front of I. Bieber's Bertie S. Leslie Grey, the favorite, paid $4.60, negotiating the six furlongs in 1:14 1-5.

$37,068,199 Bet On Canadian Races

OTTAWA, Nov. 22 (AP) — Thoroughbred racing in Canada carried $37,068,199 in wagers during the 1944 racing season, the federal government said today.

This was an increase of $3,923,186 over the 1943 figure of $33,145,013, and represented the largest amount wagered since 1930 when thirty associations held 332 days of racing and wagered $38,007,146.

Lady Baltimore Handicap Draws Seven Entries

BALTIMORE, Nov. 22 (AP) — Seven thoroughbreds, including H. O. Metcalf's Star Copy, winner of the race in 1942, were named today for the eighth running of the $7,500-added Lady Baltimore Handicap, the Thanksgiving day feature tomorrow at Pimlico.

The test, at one mile and a sixteenth, is for fillies and mares, three-year-olds and upward. The entry of Brookmeade Stable's Dare Me and Longchamps Farms' Mrs. Ames, and Cain Hoy Stable's Good Morning, were expected to be favorites at post time.

Star Copy set the Lady Baltimore record of 144 two years ago, and will carry 117 pounds tomorrow along with Mrs. Ames.

Good Morning was top-weighted at 122 pounds, and Dare Me was assigned 115.

Twilight Tear, Calumet Farm's filly champion and candidate for the horse-of-the-year honors, was declared from the Lady Baltimore, and Trainer Ben Jones wasn't expected to start her again this season.

The Tear was scratched from the $25,000 Riggs Handicap last Monday just before the race, because of rain and track conditions.

Others entered in the Lady Baltimore were George Perry's Smiling Lass, 100; C. T. Cheney's Cattachiptico, 110; and O. S. Jennings' Blue Sash, 101.

McWilliams Paces Conference Scorers

ATLANTA, Nov. 22 (AP) — Though held scoreless by Alabama last Saturday, Tom (Shorty) McWilliams, Mississippi State's brilliant tailback, still leads the Southeastern Conference scoring race by thirty points. Injured early in the game, in which the Crimson Tide handed the Maroons their first defeat of the season, 19-0, McWilliams played less than a quarter, but the eighty-four points he piled up in six previous games was enough to keep him far out in front.

Buster Stephens, Tennessee's sensational halfback, chalked up 18 points as the Vols beat Temple 27-14, becoming the ninth player in the conference to score three touchdowns in a game this season. The effort brought his total to fifty-four points, giving him a second-place tie with Bobby Forbes, of Florida.

In fourth place with forty-seven points is Allen (Dinky) Bowen, of Georgia Tech, who added two placement points as the engineers beat Louisiana State, 14-6. Billy Bryan, of Georgia, in kicking seven straight extra points against Auburn, upped his fifth-place total to forty-four points as the Bulldogs won, 49-13.

Pleasant Surprise

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 22 (AP) — Mrs. Walter Slater's last word was that her husband, a former University of Tennessee football player, now a B-24 bombardier, was a prisoner of war. Last night she found out she was a bit out of date. Lt. Slater rang the doorbell at his home here and walked in.

Dog Races Will Be Held at Fort Meade

FORT GEORGE G. MEADE, Md., Nov. 22 (AP) — Eighteen dog races will be held at Fort Meade Dec. 3 by the Whippet Breeders' Association of Maryland.

Among the dogs slated to run are Heelfly, holder of the world's record for 200 yards; Jack of Hearts, winner of this year's Whippet Derby, and Deuce of Spades, 1943 Derby winner.

In 1889, Nellie Bly traveled around the world in seventy-two days; in 1913 the globe was circled in thirty-five days; now 120 flying hours can do it.

Portion of Green Ridge to Remain Closed to Hunters

O'Connor Says Cutting of Pulpwood Is Essential to War Effort

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 22 (AP)—Governor O'Connor said today he had turned down a petition asking that the entire 30,000 acres in Green Ridge state forest be opened to hunters.

A portion of the Western Maryland forest now is being used to cut pulpwood for war production, the governor said.

Governor O'Connor's letter in reply to the petition declared that "at the outset I must observe a misstatement of fact is contained in the printed petition, circulated in your (Western Maryland) section and signed by the citizens. It is asserted that 30,000 acres have been closed, whereas only 10,000 acres have been restricted, the remaining 20,000 acres being open to hunters as in previous seasons."

Pulpwood Is Essential
Continuing, the governor asserted that "more important than this fact is the apparent short-sighted attitude on the part of subscribers to the petition. The production of this pulpwood is virtually necessary to the success of the war effort, according to official advice received by us from the War Production Board."

"An extreme shortage of pulpwood required a direct appeal from the WPB to develop maximum production at the Luke mill, while disposition of the production is under direction of the WPB."

"Today, General Eisenhower officially announces that more and more supplies are needed by our armed forces at the fighting front. A few days ago, Admiral King expressed grave concern over the decrease in war production x x x. In the face of these facts, I think it would be outrageous to order a stoppage of essential war production simply to permit hunters to enjoy outdoor recreation, especially when two-thirds of this large area already is available to them."

Prisoners Required to Work
O'Connor's letter then went on to say that the expense to the country of keeping war prisoners was high and "it is but common sense to require these war prisoners to work. Such work must be performed either in our state or elsewhere, and it would amass of selfishness to close a production area for the purpose of shutting this working force off to another section."

The governor said he was "sure that the citizens of Western Maryland are not less patriotic than Marylanders serving in the armed forces, but that he thought 'the signers of the petition should be reminded that we have an obligation to our fighting forces, included in which is the responsibility for maximum production of the essentials of war such as pulpwood.'"

Local Churches Plan Thanksgiving Day Services

John J. Davidson, 84, Former Local Resident, Dies in Pittsburgh

Clifford Shipley, 504 Prince George street, with whom he resided until ten years ago.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Margaret Kelly Davidson, and Mrs. Spiker, he is survived by two sons, Harry Davidson, Furnace street; John Davidson, Baltimore pike, and nine grandchildren, three of whom are in the armed forces.

MAILING RUSH PREVIEW—This recent picture of the shipping room at the local post office shows that many local residents are heeding the Post Office department's plea for mailing of all Christmas packages and cards by December 1. A million pieces of mail are expected to go through the Cumberland post office in the seven or eight heaviest days of the Christmas mailing rush, although it may vary if the public, as last year, responds to the request to mail early. ## New Wild Turkey Bag Limit To Be Effective Dec. 1

LeCompte Says Commission Adopted Regulation at Hancock

In conformance with Section 5, Chapter 708, Acts of 1943, the Game and Inland Fish Commission of Maryland, through its discretionary power as provided by said act declares "the bag limit on wild turkey in Maryland shall be one per day and not more than one per season." This regulation shall be effective December 1 to 31, 1944.

According to E. Lee LeCompte, state game warden, this regulation was adopted by the commission at a meeting in Hancock, November 21.

Any person violating the provisions of this regulation shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction, fined not less than $10 nor more than $50 and may be sentenced to thirty days in jail, either or both in the discretion of the court of justice of the peace before whom said person shall be tried.

Another regulation adopted by the commission at the same meeting provides that "the hunting of deer in Frederick county, Md., shall be legal during the open season as provided by law, when the ground is covered with snow."

This regulation shall be in effect from November 21, 1944, until revoked or repealed.

Notices relative to the adoption of the new regulations are signed by LeCompte and Garner Wood Denmead, chairman of the commission.

Pulcher P. Smith, of Ellerslie, who represents Western Maryland on the commission, did not attend the Hancock meeting.

A report from Hancock the night of the meeting indicated that Chairman Denmead and James H. Gambrell, Jr., Frederick, vice chairman, were in attendance but no mention was made of Smith, A. Gordon Fleet, Baltimore, and J. D. Longfellow, of the Eastern Shore, commission members.

In keeping with an annual custom, the Girls' League and the Girls' Hi-Y Club, of Fort Hill high school, the Allegany high school, Girls' Hi-Y Club and several Girl Scout troops have contributed enough food for sixty baskets which were distributed yesterday to needy families by the Associated Charities, according to Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive secretary of the agency.

Delivery of the food for Thanksgiving dinners was made yesterday to sixty homes by city trucks. Home canned foods, fruits and vegetables, chicken and meat were among the items packed into the baskets.

Port Hill high school held a special Thanksgiving program on Tuesday at which time Norma Lee Cole made the presentation of the food gifts to Miss Bonig in behalf of the school organizations.

Miss Bonig pointed out that the baskets were delivered to those physically disabled and to families where there is little source of income due to the illness of adults.

After reporting at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., he will visit his wife at Kingsport, Tenn., and together they will come here to visit his parents.

Early Action Is Urged on Savage River Dam Bill

Flood Committee Chairman Acts on Beall's and Randolph's Request

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Rep. Whittington (D-Mass.), chairman of the House Flood Control Committee, moved today for early consideration of a bill to provide for completion of the Savage River dam in Western Maryland.

At the request of Reps. Randolph (D-WVa) and Beall (R-Md), he asked army engineers to expedite a report on the present status of the project and the desirability of completing it.

Randolph said he was certain the report would be available within several days and that the committee would consider it immediately thereafter.

The bill, introduced by Beall last week, would provide $800,000 for completion of the dam, now approximately 60 per cent finished.

Randolph said he and Beall felt that the dam would deteriorate unless work was resumed shortly, and he asserted the project was vital not only to Western Maryland and adjacent areas of West Virginia, but to the entire Potomac river basin.

Army engineers previously recommended that work be resumed on the dam as soon as the war situation permitted. Work was halted in 1941 because of a war-created shortage of men and materials. Industries in the Cumberland (Md) region were handicapped by a shortage of water during the past summer, and Randolph said completion of the dam would alleviate this condition by insuring a sustained flow of water in the Potomac.

Allegany county, Maryland, supplied $1,000,000 of the estimated total project cost of approximately $4,000,000.

Early Mailing of Christmas Cards And Packages Urged by Postmaster

Shriver Estimates Million Pieces of Mail Will Be Handled at Local Post Office in Holiday Rush

Stating that a million pieces of mail are expected to go through the local post office during the seven or eight heaviest days of the Christmas mailing rush, James C. Shriver, postmaster, said yesterday that all Christmas packages and cards should be in the mails not later than Friday, December 1.

Residents of Cumberland are urged to space their mailing of Christmas gifts and cards over a period of several days before December 1, in order to avoid a heavy mailing rush at the post office.

First-Class Mailing Urged
Christmas cards should be mailed first-class in order to insure any necessary forwarding to new addresses, Shriver said. He explained that with millions of persons now serving in the armed forces, and with other millions doing war work away from home, cards sent to such persons should be mailed first-class for prompt delivery and directory service. Sealed, first-class cards may contain writing, he added.

All packages should be addressed correctly and should be securely wrapped. The overseas mailing boxes used by many persons in sending gifts to servicemen abroad are on sale at local stores, and are recommended by postal officials for use in mailing Christmas packages to persons in this country.

Extra Help To Be Employed
The local post office will employ about sixty-five extra persons to help with the Christmas mailing period this year, which is expected to be the greatest in history, Shriver said. Approximately 120 names, seventy-five per cent of which are those of young men and women between the ages of 16 and 20, have been sent to the Post Office department, Washington, for certification. Extra help will be taken on after December 1.

The peak of the Christmas rush is expected between December 18 and 20, although it may vary if the public, as last year, responds to the request to mail early. Five extra delivery trucks will be used this season, and delivery hours will be the same as usual, Shriver said.

As Christmas is on a Monday this year, the post office will be closed from Saturday afternoon, December 23, until Tuesday morning, December 27. Mails will be dispatched and

The November 7 general election cost Allegany county $14,964.97 on the basis of all expenses of the election presented to the county commissioners for payment up to yesterday, county officials reported. They added that the bills received to date will in all probability constitute the entire cost of the election.

By far the greatest expense is the approximately $10,500 required for payment of services of clerks and judges of election in the county's seventy-five precincts.

Bills for rental of polling places are about $1,400 while the remaining $2,000 is absorbed in the additional help and expense of counting the soldier vote, printing of ballots, newspaper advertising and supplies.

Printing the ballots for the voting cost the county $1,225 while the soldier vote expense was placed at approximately $505. There were 1,831 servicemen's ballots cast in the election.

The county commissioners appropriated $28,000 for the primary and general elections, and county officials said that expenses of the primary and the election board to November 1 left a balance of $17,000. The primary cost about $8,000.

The $17,000 remaining as of November 1 was to be used to conduct the general election and to pay the expenses of the election board to March 31, county officials said.

Weber Says City Was Offered Lots At $675 an Acre

Brands $1,000 Figure Misleading; Property Contains Six Acres

Inference that the thirty-two lots offered by Arthur J. Weber to the city for the extension of runways at the Cumberland Municipal Airport would cost an average of $1,000 per acre was branded last evening by the South End Planning Mill official as "misleading to the public."

Figured on the acreage basis, Weber who offered the lots to the city for $125 each and a total cost of $4,000, said that the cost of the lots to him an acre was $908 and he is offering them at the bargain price of $675.

Comprises Six Acres
Weber stated the thirty-two lots, streets and alleys represents six acres and not four as figured by the city engineering department.

The airport lot owner said he will take a loss of $25 a lot and a total of $800 loss in selling the thirty-two lots to the city for $4,000.

"In one instance $1,000 an acre was paid for the McCabe property," Weber stated. "This was twelve acres for $12,000, an average of $400 an acre was paid by the city for the Stuckley property. Neither property was developed."

Weber pointed out that the price of $150 a lot asked by him was on the ten or twelve lots originally needed by the city. However, the CAA plans for expansion of the airport would require the acquisition of thirty-two lots.

Port Adds to Value
"The cost of $150 a lot includes nothing for development, administration or bookkeeping, all of which should be chargeable to the property," Weber said. "At least fifty lots in this development were sold for $200 each. Several were sold for $150 in the past few years before the airport was considered. I believe that the CAA has added to the value of this property as it is the only parcel of private property adjoining the airport and is most desirable of any property considered. There is no question in my mind that in a few years the lots will be five times their present value after the airport is developed and used."

Weber said he bought the lots in 1925 at $500 per acre, an equivalent of $82 per lot. Taxes and interest charges of $43 a lot does not nearly compensate for the cost of carrying this property over a period of nineteen years, he concluded.

B. and O. Welder Overcome by Gas
Six Persons Are Treated In Local Hospitals for Minor Injuries

Oren Walker, 50, 1003 Lafayette avenue, was admitted to Memorial hospital shortly after midnight yesterday for treatment after he was overcome by gas as he was at work in the B. and O. back shops here.

The welder told attaches he was gassed as he was using an acetylene torch. He was discharged yesterday after treatment.

Rowan McClellan, 42, 220 Union street, was treated in Allegany hospital yesterday at 3:15 p. m. for a severely burned right hand. The Western Union employee told attaches he was injured when the blow torch he was using exploded as he was at work.

Falls Against Machine
Rose Port, 32, Eckhart Mines was treated in Allegany hospital yesterday at 1:05 p. m. for a dislocated left shoulder. The Celanese worker told attaches he was injured when he slipped and fell against a machine while at work yesterday.

Paul Brooke, 480 Pennsylvania avenue, was treated in Memorial hospital at noon yesterday for possible wrist injuries. The George P. Hazelwood Company crane operator said he was injured when he caught himself after the crane he was operating turned over. X-rays were taken to determine the extent of injury, attaches said.

Kelly Worker Injured
Earl Cooper, 39, Williams road, was treated in Memorial hospital last evening at 6:15 o'clock for a laceration of the left hip. The Kelly worker told attaches he was hurt when he fell while at work.

Barbara Uphold, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Uphold, Terra Alta, W. Va., was admitted to Memorial hospital at 8:30 p. m. for treatment of a fractured collarbone. Attaches were told the girl was hurt when she fell from a horse at her home.

Wastepaper Drive Will Open Monday
Four Sections Outside City Will Be Visited on First Day

Wastepaper will be collected in four sections adjacent to Cumberland on Monday, commencing at 9 a. m., it was announced yesterday by W. Donald Smith, chairman of the Allegany County Salvage Committee.

Trucks will visit the Baltimore pike as far as Miller's Gas Station, Prantznov on the Bedford road, Bowman's Addition and Locust Grove. The county fire department is in charge of wastepaper collection at Corriganville.

Other sections to be visited during the sixth monthly collection include: Tuesday—West side, Bowling Green and Potomac Park. Wednesday—North side, Baltimore street, Baltimore avenue, Bedford Road and Frederick street extended.

THURSDAY—South of Baltimore street and LaVale.

FRIDAY—South of Oldtown road. Householders are urged to put their wastepaper on the bays designated regardless of rain or snow.

Man Sought by Son Lives near Eckhart, Police Are Told

Cumberland police reported yesterday afternoon that Andrew T. Valentine, who is being sought by his son, James C. Valentine, Columbus, Ohio, was reliably reported as living in Eckhart flats.

The identification came within a few hours after the Cumberland News published an account of the son's search for his father who he had not seen since 1936.

Desk Sgt. L. E. Meister said that Mrs. Etta Price, laboratory worker of the Health department in the Public Safety building, told him at noon that Valentine is living in Eckhart flats near Adams' gasoline station.

Mrs. Price said that Valentine's second wife, Mrs. Hattie Valentine, who died in 1938, was her sister. The Eckhart man has remarried since, Mrs. Price said.

World Must Trust In God, Minister Tells Service Clubs

The people of the world, to meet their greatest challenge, must put their trust in a greater power and work together in harmony and unity for the ideals set before them by the Master of all men, the Rev. Carl H. Clapp, pastor of St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed church, told members of the Kiwanis and Lions clubs at their joint Thanksgiving luncheon meeting held at noon yesterday in Y.M.C.A.

Taking for his theme "The Fallen Rocks," the Rev. Mr. Clapp pointed out that the world is in ruin today and that many of the hopes of young people have been broken because of the war.

History shows, he said, that the world has been in similar shape from wars before, although destruction has not been so bad, and has been on the verge of collapse but a new world and a new life were built and it did not perish. It will not this time, he declared.

Out of the world struggle will come many fine things, the minister said, pointing out that many people who have been slaves will be free from slavery; there will be new cities, new countries, culture and education.

Of course, the Rev. Mr. Clapp said, war is a great price to pay since it means the sacrifice of the finest of our young men and women. Enduring roads must be traveled, he stated, to bring out the worthwhile things.

Post-war problems, according to the Rev. Mr. Clapp, bring the greatest challenge to the minds of men. No man, he asserted, will be able to solve the problems. Nations must come together and try to build the best world ever known with righteousness and justice.

There are, he said, some things that have not suffered from the war, there are some that are out of repair but can be put back in repair by doing nothing, there are some things out of repair that never be repaired and there are some things out of repair that can be repaired with our efforts and the aid of Almighty God.

There will be wars as long as mankind is selfish, he said, adding that the only way out of it is to live as the Prince of Peace lived.
